

Why is child ID and child safety so important?

The FBI receives over 2000 missing children reports every day. A child in the United States becomes missing every 40 seconds. Statistics from the US Justice Department and the World Almanac puts the chance of any child becoming missing at 1 in 42.

Statistics on missing children:

800,000 children are reported missing each year. It has been estimated that approximately 1.3 million children go missing each year, but the primary caretakers do not report 500,000 of the episodes (National Incidence Studies of Missing, Abducted, and Runaway Children: U.S. Department of Justice,

"KID KARD" Parent Contact Card

All parents have had the heart-wrenching experience of having a small child wander away from them in a shopping mall or other crowded location. Usually the upset child will soon be discovered by an adult. Unfortunately, finding a lost child doesn't necessary lead to an immediate reuniting with the frantic parent. Most young children can't tell the assisting adult their complete name, let alone their parent's address or other contact information. That's where "KID KARD" comes into play.

Our "KID KARD" attaches securely to your child's clothing. Mom or Dad simply takes the "KID KARD" ID out of their purse or wallet and attaches it to their son or daughter's clothing before entering the mall or other destination. Now if the child becomes separated from the parent, they are wearing a highly visible ID card that has a picture of the child with Mom and Dad's cell phone numbers and other contact information. A happy return is almost guaranteed—and many are reported to us on a regular basis.

Remember there is no substitute. For your attention and supervision. Being available and taking the time to really know and listen to your children helps build feelings of safety and security that will last a life time.

Child Safety ID Cards

While the "KID KARD" ID provides the powerful first line of response in getting your children back safely, the Full Child Safety ID card helps complete the circle.

Law enforcement officials urge parents everywhere to keep an annually updated picture, pertinent information & all 10 fingerprints available in the first 20 minutes after the child or loved one is reported missing. Having these items quickly at hand helps complete the Amber Alert System and can play a critical role in a quick and safe recovery of your loved ones.

Current child identification is also a must when traveling by airplane, across borders and overseas.

SAFE RETURNS Identifications and Safety Packages are not only for children, but for any loved one, including the disabled, the elderly, and even pets.
